

Paul Bunn Jr, MD

*Professor of Medicine, James Dudley Endowed Professor of Oncology
University of Colorado Denver
Aurora, Colorado*

Paul Bunn Jr, MD is the James Dudley endowed professor of Oncology and professor of medicine at the University of Colorado Denver. He received his MD at Cornell University Medical Center in New York before completing his internship and residency in internal medicine at the University of California, San Francisco. Dr Bunn then joined the US Public Health Service and worked at the National Cancer Institute (NCI) at the National Institutes of Health. While fulfilling his research duties with the NCI, Dr Bunn also acted as an assistant professor of medicine at Georgetown University Medical School, and later as an associate professor of medicine at the Uniformed Services University of Health Sciences. Dr Bunn then accepted a position with the University of Colorado Health Sciences Center as a full professor of medicine. Dr. Bunn was Director of the University of Colorado Cancer Center from 1986-2009.

Dr Bunn has published extensively on issues of lung cancer diagnosis and treatment in peer-reviewed journals including the Journal of Thoracic Oncology, the Journal of Clinical Oncology, and the Clinical Cancer Research. He has worked and continues to work on numerous regional and national cancer research projects. Dr Bunn has acted as chairman of the FDA Oncology Drug Advisory Committee, president of the American Society of Clinical Oncology, and president of the American Association of Cancer Institutes and President of the International Association for the Study of Lung Cancer (IASLC).